

Parlay Credit Account, Consignment Goods supply agreement for commercial operators.

This Agreement (below) is Between NZ Boxer Ltd trading as Parlay and the below-named Retailer. By signing this agreement provided by Parlay the Retailer agrees to the terms and conditions contained within.

Business name, address and contact Tel no's)

Bells & Baubles
No1/114 bridge st
Bulls
0275514441

The Parlay Offer

No outlay, No dead stock, and No risk
Market leaders, satisfying customer demand.
We provide both the products and the display stands.
We guarantee all our products against defects.
We're invested in making this a success for you.
Easy to work with standard T&Cs. (see Here).
No long-term tie-in contract! End at any time.

DEFINITIONS

Agreement: Is this credit account and Consignment Agreement
Goods: Are goods ordered by or supplied to the Retailer by Parlay
Premises: The retailers' business address where goods are held.
Sold Goods: Are goods sold or goods in a non-merchantable condition.
Online account: Retailers account at www.parlay.co.nz
Non-Merchantable: Are goods damaged or soiled whilst held by the retailer

The Install

Parlay offers/will deliver and install a consignment of goods within two weeks or other as agreed with the retailer upon signing this agreement. For management purposes, Parlay will provide the retailer with access to an online account where all goods supplied under this agreement and their restocking is manageable between parties.
Unless otherwise, agreed the Retailer shall solely utilize their Parlay online account to record all Sold consignment Goods within a period of not greater than by the 15th of each calendar month or at any other time the retailer wishes to top up their goods.

Goods being replenished when sold

Where goods are delivered to the premises. The Retailer shall be deemed to have received and accepted the goods invoiced if, within 24 hours of their receipt, no notification of deficit or damage has been reported to Parlay.
Upon receipt of delivered goods, Except where agreed to different the Retailer accepts full liability for them whilst in their possession. The retailer's liability for the value of the goods to Parlay exists until such time as the retailer pays for them or returns them to Parlay in a merchantable condition.
The retailer gives Parlay and its agents the right to enter the premises during normal working hours without notice for the purpose of inspection, stock checking or removal of the Goods supplied.

Stock checks and payments

From time to time Parlay and/or its agent(s) may attend the premises for the purpose of stock checking. This will be during normal working hours and may be without prior notice. The Retailer shall provide all reasonable access for Parlay and/or its agent(s) to access the stock for this purpose.
Where goods are found to be absent or sold. Parlay will issue an invoice to the Retailer for the value of all Goods Sold since the date of the last stock check/invoice, plus all applicable delivery costs for their replenishment into the retailer's consignment stock at the premises. Under normal conditions, all invoices issued to the retailer for goods sold are to be paid for in full by the 20th of the following month. Parlay at its sole discretion may re-issue by email to the retailer more specific, differing, and overruling payment terms.

Being in breach of this Agreement

Where the Retailer is in breach or default of this Agreement E.G by not clearing any due payments. Parlay at its sole discretion may appoint agents to act on its behalf for the purpose of recovering any amounts owing or repossessing its goods. Any costs or expenses associated with such actions are recoverable from the retailer in addition to any other amounts owing.

Where payments of invoices are overdue Parlay may without notice to the retailer charge/add interest at 10% per annum on overdue funds.

Warranties we offer

Parlay will reimburse the retailer for any faulty product returned to the retailer for a refund. All warranty claims must be accompanied by the original customer purchase invoice, fault description, and the purchasing customer's contact details.

Ending this agreement

Either the Retailer or Parlay may end this Agreement by giving the other party ten working days' written notice or earlier by Agreement between parties. Where notice is given Parlay will attend the premises for the purpose of final stock checking and removal of their goods from the premises and issue of a final invoice where applicable.

Miscellaneous

Notices will be sufficiently given if posted or successfully transmitted by email to the intended recipient, Parlay's email is sales@parlay.co.nz, and the Retailer's email is that used to access their online account at www.parlay.co.nz. Parlay will be under no liability whatsoever to the retailer. Online account information is held for the duration of this agreement and only for purposes related to the Retailer's dealings with Parlay. If in default of this agreement then all moneys owed become immediately payable. This Agreement commences on the date of the retailers' signature acknowledgment of its terms.

Cooling off

Decided it's not for you! No problem the retailer hereby reserves the right without reason to cancel or stop this agreement for up to seven days from the commencement date (call 079497730).

The below signatory confirms they have fully read and understand their obligations and agreement to this Consignment goods supply agreement.

Full Name (Printed)

Sally Black

Date: September 13, 2023

Time: 12:12